

Analyst

Role and Responsibilities:

- Diagnose databases for performance and stability and provide recommendations to optimize.
- Empower customers with industry best practice for operations.
- Contribute to team of leading experts to be the one-stop-shop for SAP customers wishing to learn the latest HANA in-memory database and platform technologies Development & Programming.
- Development activities for SAP core products.
- Application of extensive programming skills in real customer implementation or engineering projects to develop innovative solutions or customer enhancements to meet business requirements or to improve overall business process performance.
- Applying software development methodologies (Agile, Scrum, etc.) during internal and external projects Application.
- Analysis of business requirements and gaps in customer solutions.
- Design of specific software requirements within your application area.
- Customer solution scoping and deployment using SAP Rapid Deployment Solutions in your functional or technical area of expertise.